
* A child named Sarah born in 1846 could have died and a later child been given the same name